

Each year the South Dublin County Enterprise Board acknowledges and celebrates the achievements of outstanding micro enterprises in South Dublin through the County & National Enterprise Awards.

This year South Dublin County Enterprise Board is delighted to sponsor the Chamber Business in the Community Awards 2008 and is proud to present the County Enterprise Awards at this event in the Red Cow Hotel on October 16th 2008.

County Enterprise Award winners are selected from eligible businesses supported by the Board on the basis of their:

- business plans
- marketing & financial strength
- technology & innovation
- entrepreneurial skills.

A cash prize, complimentary mentoring and framed certificate are awarded to each recipient. The overall winner goes on to represent South Dublin at the National Enterprise Awards.

And the winners are...

- Gerry Lynskey & Kingswood Computing Tallaght
Overall winner & South Dublin nominee for the National Enterprise Awards 2008
- Siobhan Monaghan & Sweet Cicely Rathcoole
Female Entrepreneur of the year 2008
- Kevin Murphy & Tim Cains, Shadow Creations Rathcoole
Winner of the Innovation Award 2008

Gerry Lynskey

With over 5,000 satisfied customers across Ireland and the UK, Kingswood Computing Ltd are established Farm Software specialists providing practical I.T tools for busy farmers and veterinary practices.

Set up by Gerry Lynskey in 1987, Kingswood currently employs 5 full time and 2 part time staff with markets primarily in the Republic and Northern Ireland..

Kingswood has weathered many storms since the company was established as the farming sector has faced numerous challenges during that time which had an adverse effect on business. However Kingswood has not only survived these market threats but has remained profitable and is now looking to expand its export markets .

Future plans for the business are to upgrade & develop its farm software, introduce new products, develop the British market & consolidate Kingswood's position in the veterinary software market.

Kingswood's key strengths are its knowledge of the agri IT market, its software development skills, excellent back up and support related to all software, its proven ability to respond to new market requirements and its determination to surmount all obstacles.

Siobhan Monaghan

Good honest food at an affordable price but with a special touch is the principle guiding the success of food business Sweet Cicely.

Set up by Siobhan Monaghan in 2004 as a sandwich delivery and catering company, the business recently moved to a newly purchased 1700 square foot unit in Greenogue Business Park to accommodate its rapid growth.

Now with 6 fulltime and 1 part time staff preparing and delivering a range of delectable food throughout South Dublin, Sweet Cicely is already keen to expand its operations to the North of Dublin

The product range covers platters for every occasion and customers range from business parks, hospitals, schools and sports clubs to private customers for special events and functions.

Siobhan attributes the success of the young business to its high quality affordable produce and an excellent working team. She places a lot of emphasis on branding as well as giving a great deal of attention to attractive presentation and quality.

Reign of Fire, The Count of Monte Cristo and Turbidity Tonight are just some of the productions that have benefitted from the creative talent of Shadow Creations. Set up in 1999 by qualified technicians Kevin Murphy and Tim Cains, Shadow Creations specialises in the construction of Sets, Props and Miniatures for the T.V, Film and Advertising industries.

Working from their purpose built premises in Rathcoole, Kevin and Tim provide a unique and diverse range of specialised solutions for their customers. They have invested significantly in state of the art production facilities over the years and recently purchased a second workshop to accommodate business growth.

With 8 employees as well as a number of regular contractors, their success can be attributed to their undoubted talent as innovative designers , their consistency in producing quality work , a high level of personal service to clients and a motivated staff team.

Future plans include further investment in specialist machinery and development of their digital printing / lamination facility.
